Principal's Message

Hello Skyeeehawks!

In Clovis Unified, we have a goal of teaching the whole child. We call it "Mind, Body, and Spirit" — using the term "Spirit" to mean character and/or passion for what's right. Humility is an important character strength, which is our Positivity Project focus for this month.

Some have a false understanding of Humility, confusing it with being shy or meek. Humility, the way we teach it, is a strength. Humility allows students to acknowledge and improve their weaknesses and identify and build upon their strengths. Humility gives one self-control over ego, arrogance, and vanity. Humility is also vital to one's understanding of being connected to something better than themselves, a classroom and a school.

Modeling a successful life for our students must include serving others. A defining characteristic of a morally strong society is one's service and devotion to family, community, and country, which requires humility. Of course, as parents and educators, we want to be the primary models of good character for our students, but no group exemplifies civic virtue better than American veterans. On Monday, Veterans Day, it's more important than ever to remember the sacrifices our veterans have made and continue to make for this country. "For the veteran, thank you for bravely doing what you're called to do so we can safely do what we're free to do."

Fly High, Fly Proud, Fly with our Veterans

Thank you
